CANFORD CLIFFS WARD PLANNING LIST

Significant planning applications, appeals and decisions: August 2025

1. Summary: Reflecting on recent planning activity

August saw a steady flow of applications, ranging from routine householder changes to more complex proposals. Some submissions were undermined by incomplete or inconsistent information, most notably the Certificate of Lawfulness application at 1 Avalon, while others diluted the quality of earlier, more distinctive designs, as seen at 14 Dover Road. The application at 4 Chester Road raised further concerns, combining loss of amenity and parking with a compromised new dwelling in a Conservation Area setting. A smaller number of cases, such as the 1999 swimming pool consent at 4 Bury Road, sought only to regularise past approvals rather than introduce fresh impacts.

Planning decisions this month were mixed. Modest extensions and amendments were approved, but a prior-approval bid for an external lift shaft at Park Court, in addition to the two extra storeys already approved, was refused.

BPCCRA has continued to submit objections where applications fail to respect local character, lack sufficient detail, or compromise neighbour amenity. We will maintain close scrutiny of all new submissions to ensure that development supports, rather than erodes, the distinctive qualities of the Ward.

Demolish existing dwelling and erect 2no Detached dwellings with associated access and parking.

Although the design includes some traditional features like pitched roofs, the overall scheme tries to squeeze too much onto the site. The two new houses are too big for the plot, leaving very little space between them or for gardens and greenery. This makes the layout feel cramped and out of place compared to the wider, greener plots that define the character of the road. The result is a more suburban feel that doesn't fit well with the established look and feel of the area. BPC CRA has submitted an objection to the proposal in its current form.

P/25/02482/FUL

REGISTERED

2 Burton Road and 22 Balcombe Road Poole BH13 6DU

Single storey front extensions.

A previous subdivision of the large plot at 2 Burton Road and 22 Balcombe Road created four dwellings within the Branksome Park & Chine Gardens Conservation Area. The current application seeks front extensions to both 2 Burton Road and 22 Balcombe Road, projecting forward of the existing building line. The submitted plans show a direct internal connection between the two properties, creating uncertainty over whether they are genuinely separate dwellings or one continuous house.

The unclear dwelling status affects the proportionality of the works – modest if one large house, but substantial for one half of a pair, particularly at 22 Balcombe Road. Combined, the extensions create a broad, continuous frontage, increasing bulk, reducing openness, and eroding the spacious, landscaped character that defines the Conservation Area. BPC CRA has objected on the grounds of unclear application information, harmful cumulative plot subdivision, and excessive scale and massing contrary to Local Plan policies PP27 and PP30.

Flat 1, 2 Maxwell Road Poole BH13 7JB

The application seeks to subdivide the existing ground-floor flat into two self-contained dwellings. The works include internal reconfiguration, a new porch canopy, creation of two separate entrances, replacement timber windows and doors, and improvements to the garden boundary. The existing four parking spaces would be retained, with cycle parking to be secured by condition.

An objection is not considered necessary in this case. The property lies outside the Branksome Park & Canford Cliffs Conservation Area following the 2014 boundary revision, so there is no statutory heritage impact. The external changes are modest and would refresh a building with a somewhat tired appearance. The proposal is consistent with local planning policy, would not harm local character or residential amenity, meets parking standards, and provides a small increase in housing provision. The only point to note is that the applicant's statement incorrectly refers to the site being within the conservation area, which should be noted and corrected by the LPA.

Levante 4 Meriden Close Poole BH13 7JT

Variation of condition 2 of planning application APP/23/00178/F as described in that description of development to extend the rear-facing second-floor terrace.

A previous consent for 4 Meriden Close approved a replacement dwelling with a limited second-floor terrace and conditions to prevent the wider flat roof from being used as amenity space, alongside obscure glazing to protect neighbouring privacy. The new proposal seeks to enlarge the terrace across much of the south-western flat roof and omits the obscure glazing from certain second-floor windows.

Extending the terrace would remove the visual buffer provided by the un-terraced roof, creating sustained overlooking into neighbouring gardens and private outdoor areas. The omission of obscure glazing further increases direct views into adjoining properties. These changes breach key conditions of the approved scheme, conflict with Local Plan policy on protecting residential amenity, and set an undesirable precedent for similar developments. The application should be refused to uphold the original safeguards. BPCRA has submitted an objection.

A previous application for 34 Buccleuch Road was approved for a three-storey building of 10 flats with basement parking and vehicular access from The Avenue. The new proposal seeks to replace the existing house with a four-storey block of 13 flats, associated parking and landscaping, and a new vehicular access from Buccleuch Road.

Relocating the access would bring traffic, noise, and servicing activity to a quiet residential street with no precedent for flats. The extra storey and increased unit count would heighten the building's scale and density, leading to greater occupancy, more vehicle movements, and additional pressure on local services. Despite the larger footprint, there is no meaningful improvement in environmental performance over the approved scheme. These changes amount to a materially new development that should be assessed afresh and refused unless clear benefits can be demonstrated. BPPCRA has submitted an objection.

Demolish existing buildings and erect a 7 bedroom faux-Georgian mansion, with an indoor pool, as well as a garage block with annexe above.

The applicant is seeking exemption from Biodiversity Net Gain (BNG) requirements on the basis that the development qualifies as a self-build under the Self-build and Custom Housebuilding Act 2015. However, under Section 1A(1) of the Act, the owner must occupy the completed dwelling as their main residence for at least three years. This is a legal requirement—not a formality. BPCCRA have added a comment to the application, acknowledging that if the Council is minded to approve the application as a self-build, it must ensure that this condition is fully met. That includes the applicant living in the property, being registered at the address, and paying council tax here for the full three-year period. We strongly object to any exemption from BNG requirements being granted unless this is secured through formal, enforceable measures.

The Association has submitted an objection to the Reserved Matters application for the Lakeside Road site, acknowledging progress but raising concerns about the scale, appearance, and landscaping of the proposed dwellings. In particular, we note that the three-storey height, flat-roof design, and use of timber-effect cladding are not in keeping with the surrounding area or adjacent conservation zones (four of the five dwellings read as two-storey from the street, but the information for the fifth dwelling is unclear). We have asked that the scheme be revised to reduce its visual impact, improve material quality, and strengthen landscaping, in line with local planning policies and the expectations set out at the outline stage.

Demolish the existing house and provide for a replacement four-bedroom detached house.

The Association has submitted an objection to the application at 48 Compton Avenue (P/25/00827/FUL), which proposes to demolish the existing dwelling and construct a replacement four-bedroom house. Although the design of the proposal is fine, replacing a 4-bed house with a new 4-bed house seems excessive. While the proposal maintains a single dwelling, concerns were raised about the unnecessary demolition of a habitable property, representing poor sustainability and resource use; incomplete and misleading plans, particularly the omission of double-height spaces; a first-floor balcony that would overlook neighbouring gardens, causing loss of privacy; and the overall height and bulk of the proposed house, which appears three storeys tall and out of keeping with the street. These issues conflict with several policies in the Poole Local Plan (2018), particularly PP27 (Design) and the Plan's sustainability objectives.

Alterations, extensions to include loft conversion with Juliet balconies and conversion of the bungalow into 2 dwellings.

Although presented as modest alterations, this application proposes significant extensions followed by the subdivision of the existing bungalow into two dwellings. Pre-application advice clearly indicated that such intensification would not be supported, citing concerns over plot capacity and character. While planning consent has since been granted for the extensions alone, this new proposal introduces site-splitting through the back door, now justified by the borough's housing targets. BPCCRA has submitted a formal objection, noting that the scheme conflicts with earlier planning guidance and undermines the established character of Lagado Close.

The proposals aim to demolish the existing dwelling and garage to construct 10 new apartments with basement parking and associated landscaping. Situated between the Avenue Conservation Area and the beach, this proposal introduces significant massing, raising concerns about potential overlooking, particularly towards number 54, and possible disruption to nearby tree roots. The adequacy of the basement parking is also in question, as it could lead to increased on-street parking and strain local infrastructure. Although not within the Conservation Area itself, the proposal would add density and mass to a prominent route in a sensitive location, warranting careful consideration by the council to ensure that it aligns with local planning policies and preserves the character of the area.

This proposal is similar to the previously objected scheme, APP/24/00256/F, and, unfortunately, it does not amend the design or address the previous concerns in a way that would warrant a change in our position. The scale and massing of the extension proposals set out in the application appear disproportionate, raising issues of overdevelopment and detracting from the visual harmony of the neighbourhood. Furthermore, the design aesthetics of the extension are lacking, failing to complement the existing built environment and creating overlooking issues for their neighbours.

Prior approval notification for two additional storeys.

This application combines two elements: the installation of a new lift shaft – previously submitted as a standalone full application and later withdrawn (P/25/00757/FUL) – and two additional storeys, already approved under Permitted Development via prior approval (APP/24/01223/PA). The current submission effectively reintroduces the lift shaft under the Permitted Development route, following the unexplained removal of the earlier application from the planning website, without formal notice or communication.

While the goal of improving accessibility may be welcomed by some, the proposal raises wider concerns regarding transparency, communication, and the balance between development ambitions and the rights of existing leaseholders. In this case, there appears to have been minimal engagement with current residents, resulting in understandable frustration among those most affected.

Though not the most visually intrusive, the lift shaft would significantly alter the function and access of the building – blocking the existing main entrance and reducing natural light to communal areas. More significantly, it risks setting a precedent for major structural changes being advanced without broad consensus.

BPCCRA has submitted a formal objection. We believe this case highlights the need for a more collaborative and transparent approach to development – one that fully considers the amenity and quality of life of existing residents, alongside the objectives of landlords and developers.

There are also inconsistencies in the submitted documentation which raise questions about the proposal's eligibility under Permitted Development.

The proposal aims to add a first floor, designed in a similar bold style to the existing building, to create a first-floor master suite with balcony, alongside the addition of a new carport.

While the description is relatively unassuming, the works represent a substantial transformation, converting a single-storey dwelling into a two-storey property.

Erection of a two-storey rear extension with a hip-to-gable roof extension above, including new windows, rooflights, and external materials to match the existing semi-detached family home.

The proposed development seeks to increase internal living space while remaining in-keeping with the surrounding gated neighbourhood in both scale and appearance. It aims to remain subservient to neighbouring dwellings, reflecting their form and architectural character through a consistent use of materials and design.

Certificate of lawfulness for proposed removal of existing porch/conservatory and build a smaller porch in its place. Extend rear kitchen by 4m with flat roof and lantern. Conversion of existing garage to habitable accommodation.

It is difficult to properly assess this application due to significant omissions and inconsistencies in the information provided. The submitted drawings lack fundamental details, including scale bars, north arrows, and annotations. The proposal appears to comprise three elements: a replacement front porch, a rear extension, and the conversion of an existing garage to habitable accommodation. However, none of these are presented with sufficient clarity:

- Porch: The external dimensions are not confirmed, so it is unclear whether the area is under the 3m² permitted development limit. In addition, Drawing 10 ("Proposed Elevations") omits the front elevation.
- Rear extension: The feasibility of the rear extension seems dependent on the removal of an existing side extension/garage, yet this is not acknowledged in the application.
- Garage conversion: The change of use from garage to habitable accommodation is proposed, but Drawing 5 ("Proposed Side Elevation – West") still shows garage doors (or possibly an unlabelled outbuilding), leaving the proposal ambiguous.

Taken together, the information provided is incomplete and contradictory. As a result, the application is not supported by sufficient detail to establish either its validity as an application or the lawfulness of the proposed works under a Certificate of Lawfulness (CLD). Although the works themselves may not be overly contentious, the fact that this application has been validated raises questions about the rigour applied by the Council in its validation process. For these reasons, BCPPRA has submitted an objection.

Application for a Lawful Development Certificate for fulfilling of Planning Approval Ref: 99/05054/005/F, approved 9th December 1999 and building the previously approved enclosed swimming pool.

This application seeks to confirm that the enclosed swimming pool, previously approved under the 1999 consent, has been built in accordance with that permission, thereby regularising the works.

Variation of condition 2, 4 and 7 of planning permission APP/22/01429/F as described in that description of development to amend the list of approved plans to alter the design of the homes, details also included are a materials schedule, EV charging point details, landscaping plan and bat mitigation plan.

This is a rather disappointing development, where more generic proposals have replaced the previously approved plans, which were of greater interest. The reduction in overall building height is a positive change, and the choice of brick is tasteful; however, the adoption of a flat roof and the use of white brick are neither synonymous with nor in keeping with the character of the Conservation Area.

Although handed, the revised scheme (for two 5-bedroom dwellings) has been arranged so that two of the bedrooms (Bedroom 4 in each house) directly face one another at a distance of only around 10 metres. This relationship is poor and should not be supported.

For these reasons, the Branksome Park and Canford Cliffs Residents' Association (BPCCRA) has submitted an objection.

Alterations and conversion of semi basement garage, utility/ workshop, storage areas and undercroft to provide a new 2 bedroom dwelling.

While the proposal may have only a limited impact on the streetscene, the setting of the host building, and the wider Conservation Area, it nevertheless raises several concerns. The scheme involves the loss of the host property's rear garden and on-site parking, with consequential pressure on surrounding streets for parking provision.

The practicality of the proposal is also questionable, as it appears to rely on extensive underpinning and excavation works. The resulting unit would be a single-aspect dwelling of compromised quality, while the host property would be left with reduced amenity and parking provision. Taken together, the proposal amounts to an effective sub-division of the site within the Conservation Area, with adverse implications for both the host property and the wider context. For these reasons, BCPPRA has submitted an objection.
